

Integral Theory at SUNY Press

announcing two exciting new partnerships

SUNY Press is proud to announce a new book series on Integral Theory edited by Sean Esbjörn-Hargens, Associate Professor and Founding Chair of the Integral Theory Program at John F. Kennedy University. Launched this spring with a book by Mark Forman, three more titles will be released this year and more are in the pipeline. As the premier academic publisher for Integral content, SUNY Press has also partnered with the Integral Institute to distribute the Journal of Integral Theory and Practice. The official source for articles related to Integral Theory and its application, JITP moved to its new home at SUNY Press with the March 2010 issue. Please visit www.sunypress.edu for more details on these exciting new ventures.
